Shority after one o'clock yesterday morning, a fire orehe cut in the sixth story of the cabinet furniture manufacturing establishment of Bernard Booch, situated in the rear of No. 91 Bleecker street, corner of Mercer street. The fames spread rapidly throughout the building, and in a very short time each story was caveloped in fames. The fire story building, fronting on Bleecker street, was sincipally used for the furniture warercomes and the building of Mr. Bosch and family, consisting of his wife and six children, five of whom slept in the premises on that night; also Margaret Hines, Mrs. Bosch's sister, and a intimate friend named Mary Barker. All these parties se friend named Mary Barker. All these parties Bosch dressed himself, and Mrs. Bosch pet meerian the whereabouts of the fre, took a lastern me a tooket of water, supporting he could extin-mate at the could be could extin-mate at the could be could be could extin-mate at the could be could be could extinof the thick smoke, until he reached the fifth of the rear building, and Mrs. Bosch fellowed close on. Mary Barker ran down stairs in a half stifled and occupants managed to escape, but, terrible to re-te, nething has been seen of Mr. and Mrs. Bosob, and

Birch, of engine company No. 4. Being well ac-led with the family he made his way up to their ms, where he met Miss Barker. She told him that Mr. newed him to endeaver to persuade him to leave the refiding. Mr. Birch heard Mrs. Bosch calling her husand, and started up stairs to rescue him if possible. Rhough this was but twenty minutes after the alarm, moke was, to use his expression, as "black as coal." lowever made his way to the fifth floor, being obliged to crawl near the floor in order to obtain any air. He thinks he must have been very near Mr. Bosch when he because overcome with the suffocating snoke, and must have inevitably perished had he not have been carried out by Mr. J. Control, of engine company No. 4. About this time he beard quite a load explosion, proceeding from the igniting of a large quantity of varnith. He had previously, from his knowledge of the premises, found lir. Beach's private drawers, and secured all the valuables. Among these are two tin boxes, supposed to contain Mr. Beach's will and insurance papers. Gue of Mr. Bosch's sons states that the youngest child, an infant, was taken out of the building by Mr. Curtis. The other children, being aged respectively 13, 1d, 18 and 20, were enabled to find their own way toto the street. The aunt, Margaret Rines, heard Mr. Bosch crying for help and water. erawl near the floor in order to obtain any air. He and 20, were enabled to find their own way into the serect. The sunt, Margaret Hines, heard Mr. Bosch cryling for help and water.

Mr. Tyson, a respeciable colored gentieman, residing opposite the entrance to the building in Mercer street, was awhened by the noise of the firemen breaking into Mr. Bosch's door. He states that the criss of the women and children were truly heartrending. About ten minutes after the alarm he heard Mr. Bosch near the third story windows in Mercer street, crying for help. The first that he saw of the fire was in the basement of the rear of the building in Mercer street.

Jobs Timedale, a Fifteenth ward policeman, was among the first who mounted the burning suairway, and he alsene held en when the others were crived book by the sufficiently and groped about in the dark, but could find nething of Mr. Bosch or his wife. On returning to the third story he was taken with a violent fit of womiting caused by inhaling the tamoke. He was urged to return to the afreet, but he examined, "No; I will save the old man;" but the fire drove him with others out of the building. The last seem of Mr. Beach or he windows of the fifth story, where he was heard crying, "Help! help! I'm sufficiently.

eating "I" was not seen after the escape of the family from the lower part of the building. The scools was terribly exciting throughout.

The adjoining house is rented by Mrs. Murray as a boarding house, and the occupants, aroused by the alarm, were panic stricken, and many of the women fainted. Tranks, packages, formiture, and clothing were soon hadded into the street by the affrighted boarders, but the building was saved by great exertion on the part of the firemen. The women and children were kindly cared for by the matchbors.

seighbors.
Several of the fremen suffered severely from inhaling the smoke, and had to beat a hasty retreat to the street. Surgeant Conway, of the Fourteenth ward police, while sensisting in the removal of the furniture, was thrown down, and his knee fractured. The aunt of Mr. Bosch was taken from the building in a delirious state.

The building was of brick, five stories high, and run back 100 feet on Mercor street. It was compied by Bernard Bosch as a cabinet manufactory, warehouse and dwelling—the third and fourth stories on Bisecker street being reserved for the latter purpose.

The rear building, of six stories, was erected about five years since by Mr. Bosch, by contract. At that time he expressed himself very much dissatisfied with the manner in which it was done. Tough he had contracted at a high price for its construction, he subsequently paid an additional amount to render it more secure. From the present appearance of the walls, it is evident that his objections were not without cause. The bricks and moriar seem to have been very loosely lais. The firemen threw down the most dangerous portion of the standing walls, leaving only a portion adjoining the building on Biescker street standing. The firemen were engaged up to 3 P. M., in throwing water upon the ruins, but at that time it was deemed unants to remain near, on account of the oracked and tottering stantium of the standing wall. Word was given for the gaping crowd to fall back, and a number of men went to work with levers, from the top of an adjoining building, to throw down the wall. Their proceedings were watched with much laterast. For some time their labors were without effect, but at length the vant mass was seen to yield, and finally an immense body of it fell with a treasmodous crash. The Fubbish and bricks were thrown across the streets, to the opposite lence, the crowd sommering in verry direction. Fortunately no one was injured, excepting, perhaps, in the lungs, by the etiffing cloud of dust.

The bodies are supposed to be buried about in the cen-tre of the pite, and may not be recovered for several days. A strong force of men were to go to work as soon tre of the pits, and may not be recovered for several days. A strong force of men were to go to work as soon as possible.

The less is estimated at $50,000, of which about half is insured. Mr. Booch had an insurance of $16,000 on the building and $15,000 on the stock, in various city companies. He gave employment to about forty persons, twenty of whom were abunet makers and ten upholisters. They have lost all their tools.

The end wall of the factory fell and croshed the livery stable belonging to Mr. Thomas Dilks, who saved much of his property. His less was about $1,500. He was insured for $2,000 in the Euna Insurance Company. Mrs. Murray lost $500 in household furniture. Since is insured to the amount of $3,000 in the Park Insurance Company. The building was owned by Geo. Sukeley, and was damaged to the amount of about $600, which is fully covered oy insurance in the Green wich insurance Company.

The fire is supposed to the act of an incendiary. On one corner of toe little snop in the rear of the warehouse, on the first foor, the oremen found a small barrel filled with shavings on fire; and besides this, there was a five gallon harrel filled with turpentine. It was Mr. Booch habit to inspect his building very thoroughly every night before going to bed.

Mr. Bosch was about 50 years of ago, and his wife about 40. They were much respected by all who knew them. Their ismity consisted of seven children. Their clidest daughter, Ann Maria, is married to Mr. Hough, who was empleyed in the factory; John Henry, aged 23 years; Bernard, 20 years; Mary Catharlen, 17 years; Robecca, 18 years; Herrard, 18 years; George, 5 years. All the children were in the house at the time of the fire, except the two eldest.

About half-past eight o'clock on Monday night a fire street. The fire was discovered burning among some hay in the hall way. The flames extended up the hall to the root, doing but little damage to the coupants. The third floor is cooupled in front by J. M. Bloomer, glass cutter. He has sustained some damage to his stock by water. Insured in the Commarcial Insurance Company of Jersey City for $500. The resepart is occupied by Louis Silverman, manufacturer of trunk frames. Immage slight. The fourth floor is occupied by Edward S. Comstock, issup manufacturer. The fith floor by Rest & Homer, manufacturers of gas fixtures. Their stock is damaged probably to the amount of $200—insured for $4,000 in the St. Nicholas and Hamilton insurance Companies. The building is owned by A. & G. W. Brady. It is samagef about $200, and insured for $4,000 in the Metropolitan Insurance Company. After the fire was extinguished a colored woman was found asleep uncer the stairs on the first floor. She gave her name as Mary Faniker, and represented to the police that she sai down to wait for a man and fell asleep, and was not aware of the fire until awoke by the policemes. Captain Turnbull detained the woman at the statute house. The Fire Marshal was notified to investigate the afair.

About eight o'clock Monday night a fire was discovered in St. Bridget's Church, in Avenue B., corner of Eighth street, and before the firemen succeeded to extinguishing the flames the interior of the church was damaged, probably to the amount of $2,000. The fire, it is said, originated from the hot air termsoo fluor. The building is supposed to be fully insured, but the names of the companies could not be accertained.

The Opening of the Spring Trade.

The commencement of the spring trade is always looked forward to with much interest by the commercial population of this city. This year is advent is halled with more than common need, on account of the long and se-vere barricade to which communication has been sub-

Those shipping goods to the interior, and especially to the South and West, have been much perplexed how to forward them through. We have direct railroad com-munication with St. Louis and the upper Mississippi; and yet every vessel up for New Orleans has loaded rapidly this winter, and at good rates of freights, with packages upper Mississippi as high as Galena in likinois. Owing to the probability of a short crop, which it is believed will not exceed about 3,000,000 bales—which, at the present high rates, averaging about sixty deliars per bale, will bring more money into the country than the large supply of 3,600,000 bales did last year—at pixty dollars per bale, which the prices of the whole season the average prices did not exceed from forty to forty five dollars per bale; hence it will be seen that this year's whether prices are to advance or recede will depend very much upon the receipts and the European demand, which it is supposed will be more or less maintained until the next harvest. EMDORSEMENT OF HON. J. J. OWEN'S BILL NOW REFORM THE LEGISLAYER.

In accordance with an advertised call a large meeting of citizens was held at the Brooklys City Hall on Monday evening, for the purpose of "considering what action the public interest requires in reference to the ferries between New York and Brooklys."

The meeting was called to order at the hour named in

Chairman Abijah Mann, Jr.
On taking the chair Mr. Mann briefly addressed the On taking the chair Mr. Mann briefly addressed the meeting, setting forth its objects. He stated that formerly the Fulses and Hamilton avenue ferries were enabled to pay a bonus to the city. How was it that now they were necessitated to pay a greater fare than them, and now the city gats no beaus. This he explained by the fact of the consolidation of all the ferries, and the creation thereby of a monopoly. He argued that the system of cheap fare and commutation should be returned to, and that such a course could be pursued with due deference to the rights and interests of the Union Ferry Company. In conclusion, he suggested that the chosen, and a committee was appointed to draft recontions. The pressure of the crowd in the room became so great at this time that it was necessary to organize a meeting outside.

Mr. Alexander H. Hama was then called upon, and gree a succinct and detailed statement of the ferry giversence. He gave a history of the ferry operations be tween New York and Brooklya frem the year 1851 down to the consolidation of the Union Ferry Company, and showed that previously a fair dividend was paid on the investment, and the competition gave the people good accommodations and low rates of fare; but now higher rates of fare aregularged, and the accommodations have not proportionately increased.

A VOICE—My friends, you had all better do as I do—split your ticke is That's bonest. My name is George Russell, and i don't care who knows M. (Laughter.)

Mr. Dana-continued at some length to suggest that the consolidation of the ferries may have been effected for the purpose of creating a nominal capital, which might seem real, and thereby enable them to appropriate dividends upon ficitious capital. He advised that application should be made to the Lagislature for redress of gilevances.

At the conclusion of his address the committee on resointions reported a series, declaring that ferries should be run as low as passible; that the Hamilton, South and Pulton ferries could and ought to be run at one cent fare; that ferry franchises are granted to accommodate the people; that ferry companies have jao right to levy high farts to protect themselves from the consequences of mijudicious speculations; that the patrons of one necessary itery should not be taxed to support another ferry, run merely for the convenience of a few; that individuals are accountable when associated together in a corporate capacity; that the Union Ferry Company have violated their obligations.

A short time since it was your red here that a resolution had peased the New York House of Assembly in structing the Senators and Representatives in Congress from that State to vote against all bills preposing to ex imitation. It is sincerely hoped that the announcement is based upon semething more substantial than rumor.

Such a movement would be an important step in the proper direction. The schemes for patent extensions con coded for the precent session of Comress are egon a gigantic scale, and involve important principles and interests, and the people should be troteded as far as possible against the operations of menopolities, who propose, by means of these extensions, to impose upon them a tax as edious as unjust. The action of the New York Legislature is seasonable, also I have reason for believing that a member from your city has been tedeced to act as sponeor to one of the India rubber patent extensions. Mr. Whitney, o New York, objected to the consideration of the "bill for Dr. Maryat (Therapeutier (France), Dr. Glovanni de Vittis Chief Physician in consumption is straitly orthodox, and may be considered in all respects regular. The frequency of their use depends very much on the caprice of the physician. Dr. Reed advises that the patient shall "take an emetic every morning and evening for months." Simmes orders them only "twice a week," and Dr. Vittis "every morning." There is also the same discrepancy in regard to the kind of emetics that are to be emptoyed. One orders "squills." another "tatar emetic," a third "specar," while a fourth will only use "sulphate of cooper." Which of these is the most orthodor or regular I am unable to tell.

I should not think it necessary to say anything in condemnation of this abourd and cruel practice, were it not for the fact that it is constantly prescribed in this city by medical men in good standing in the profession. I have at this moment undertreatment more than one person who has been thus ignorant ly and needlessly toctured. "The idea," said one of these to me the other day, "of curing consumption by turning the stomach inside out every morning, and straining till the bied rushes to he head and face, and, as in one instances with my self, actually guades out of the menule, is something I cannot understand."
